THRONGS VISIT POST OFFICE

Crowds Continue to View the Handsome New Government Building. Clerks Like New Quarters.

The new postoffice building is again thronged with visitors today, some of whom are there to transact regular business and others merely attracted by the opening of this beautiful building to the public. The transfer of all mail matter and general postoffice business to the new building was accomplished without any lapse in arrangements of service, and the facts that mail was abundantly distributed and that no delay in handling it was experienced speak volumes for the efficient management of Postmaster H. W. Hopkins.

The first letter to be mailed in the new office was from Mayor John W. Elder to Hon. W. H. Andrews, and expressed on behalf of the citizens of the city the appreciation for the delicate efforts in securing so magnificient a structure for the city.

The heating and ventilation of the new building, especially in the landing and work rooms, are excellent, and these features are greatly appreciated by the clerks who have so long handled the mails in the cramped and inadequate quarters formerly provided.

CHILDREN TO HAVE CELEBRATION FRIDAY

Lectures and Programs at Schools Decided on at Interesting Teachers Meeting Yesterday.

Friday, March 31, will be a half holiday in the local schools Friday is Arbor Day, and the teachers decided at a meeting held yesterday afternoon to avoid suitable exercises and give appropriate short talks to their classes in the morning, and give the children the afternoon for recess, planting and recreation. This decision was unanimous, though both the teachers and Superintendent W. D. Sterling discussed the matter at some length.

The meeting was held in the central school building, and practically every teacher in the city attended. Prof. Sterling discussed the revision of the scope of study, and explained the aims and purposes of the different branches by means of grandcharts. He spoke of the great importance of properly shaping the course, for, said he, "We do not want a course of study superimposed upon the schools of this city that will not fit our conditions. Our course of study should be an outgrowth of our industrial and geographical environment."

Thanks for the suggestions which were offered by the teachers themselves were distributed, and many valuable ideas presented.

Professor Sterling read a manuscript report of the New York Board of Education on the subject of "causes of decadence of people," which was of much interest.

Y. W. C. A. HOLD FIRST MEETING TONIGHT

Music, Social Hour, Refreshments, and Talk by Miss Saxe Features of Quarterly Rally at Methodist Church.

The first of a series of quarterly membership meetings will be held by the Y. W. C. A. tonight in the First Avenue Methodist church. Several compositions of Charles Wakefield Cadman, the composer, who is spending the winter here, will be sung.

Those who have heard Mr. Cadman play his own compositions will have an opportunity of hearing several of them sung for the first time. The musical portion of the program, however, is not the only attraction. A social hour and general good time, which all members and friends of the association are invited to take part in, will be held after the business session is closed. This session will include the reading of the various committee reports.

Mrs. Rita McDonald is in charge of the musical program, which is as follows:

Vocal solo Selected Mrs. Hugh Collins

Vocal duet Selected Mrs. Roy McDonald

Ob. "The Gray Dawn Is Stealing" Cadman

Ob. "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" Cadman

Miss Anna Howell

Vocal—"Still as the Night" Bohm

Mrs. Roy McDonald

The social hour and refreshments are under the care of Mrs. Shape, assisted by Mrs. C. G. Beckman, while the short devotional exercises are in the care of Mrs. J. H. Head.

The chairman of the various committees who will render reports, are as follows:

Mrs. Roy McDonald, chairman of the music committee; Mrs. Isaac Barth, chairman of the cafeteria committee; Miss Erna Ferguson, chairman of the social committee; Mrs. C. G. Minns, chairman of the house committee; Mrs. A. C. Shape, chairman of the membership committee; Mrs. McDonald, chairman of the Library committee, and Mrs. E. A. Field, the treasurer's report. Mrs. John Mordt, is in charge of the business session.

Mr. Marcellus C. Chace, president, will greet those present and Miss Saxe, the general secretary of the local association, will give a short talk on the progress of the work in the city.

These meetings, which are to be held regularly hereafter, are for the purpose of keeping everyone in touch with the association and the great work it is doing here.

WILDE SELECTED TO HEAD A. U.

Special to Evening Herald.

Tucson, Ariz., March 28.—Dr. Arthur H. Wilde has accepted the position of head of the University of Arizona, according to a advises received by M. P. Freeman, president of the board of regents.

Dr. Wilde has been connected with the Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., for the past nineteen years, and resigned there only to take up the Arizona presidency. He will take up his new duties May 1. He was offered the place by the regents about a month ago.

Dr. Wilde was born in Framingham, Mass., April 26, 1865. He graduated from Boston university in 1887, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He taught in a seminary at Tilton, N. H., from 1887 to 1889, and then did graduate work at the Boston university, receiving the degree of S. T. D. from that institution in 1891. In 1892 he became an instructor of history at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and has been connected with that institution ever since, serving in various capacities.

While on the faculty at Northwestern he engaged in graduate study and historical research work at Harvard university and received two degrees from that school, that of Master of Arts in 1899 and that of Doctor of Philosophy in 1901.

At Northwestern he has been at various times assistant professor of history, registrar of the college of Liberal Arts, professor of history and principal of the academy. During the last two years he has been secretary of the university council, an office created especially for him by the trustees that he might apply to all departments of the university the policies and economies which had made his administration at the academy very successful. In 1904 when Dr. Wilde was appointed to its head, the academy which had been for more than thirty years one of the leading schools of its class in the middle west had begun to decline in number of students and was running heavily in debt annually. Within two years Dr. Wilde increased the number of students greatly and put the school on a paying basis.

He is a member of the national Greek letter fraternity, Theta Delta Chi. He is also a member of the honorary collegiate fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa. He is a member of the North Central History Teachers' Association and of the American Historical Association.

It is also announced that Capt. J. C. Greenway of Warren, general manager of the Calumet & Arizona Mining company has been appointed a member of the board of regents to succeed George E. Rockwood of Tucson, who has resigned.

It is also announced that Capt. J. C. Greenway of Warren, general manager of the Calumet & Arizona Mining company has been appointed a member of the board of regents to succeed George E. Rockwood of Tucson, who has resigned.

The choice of both gentlemen is considered excellent.

CANNED TOMATO CREAMERY AND GOLF LINKS

Commercial Club Has Widely Varied Menu for Tonight and Full Attendance Requested by Secretary Naylor

Canned tomatoes, golf, railroad and creamery will be the somewhat varied menu to be set before the members of the Commercial club at their meeting tonight. The meeting promises much of interest to those who have the development of the Duke City at heart.

An informal discussion will be had as to the canning factory to be established here by C. H. Green of the Green Canning company of Denver. All of the acreage necessary to secure the location of the factory in Albuquerque has been signed up, and everything is now awaiting the appearance on the scene of an agent of Mr. Green, whose duty it will be to superintend the actual planting and cultivation of the tomatoes which it is expected the factory will handle.

The acreage was all signed up on condition that a practical man should be sent to Albuquerque to take charge of the growing of the tomatoes, and it is expected that this man will arrive within the next few days.
